

signNow helps construction leaders streamline job site workflows

The Tutor Perini Corporation is a leading group of civil, building and specialty construction companies with over 120 years of experience. Tutor Perini integrated signNow with Egnyte, a file sharing and synchronization platform, which allowed them to speed up and secure their company's e-signature workflows.

Key challenges before using signNow:

- ✗ Difficulty accessing documents from job sites
- ✗ Inaccurate data and missing signatures throughout documents
- ✗ Inability to track the status of documents
- ✗ Disorganized archive of executed paperwork

Results achieved with signNow:

Accessed documents in seconds, from the office, at a job site, or even while offline

Received accurate documents with all required signatures and data

Tracked the document status in real-time and completed signature workflows faster

Maintained security and compliance and automatically stored documents in Egnyte

When we were looking at electronic signature solutions, we really wanted to find one that had a proven integration with Egnyte. By choosing signNow, we were able to maintain the high levels of access to data and internal controls that Egnyte provides with our newly automated processes. It's been great to provide another tool that our teams enjoy using and makes their work so much more efficient.
